GOALS

Our goal is to bring the conversation to another level and inspire a passion for security.

We welcome presentations from diverse and humble areas of interest. Our environment fosters communication and collaboration between professionals, hobbyists, and students.

TARGET AUDIENCE

While each Security BSides event is unique, we focus on those new to the industry while enabling intermediate and advanced professionals to expand their knowledge. An eclectic blend of students, young professionals, and infosec professionals provide opportunity for our attendees to grow.

A smaller and more intimate setting contributes to the unique nature of BSides Orlando where attendees look for more than just information. They are looking to make connections, have conversations to complete their goals, and advance their careers.

THE VALUE OF A SPONSORSHIP

Our intimate event provides participants an opportunity to develop connections with students, hobbyists, and industry professionals. The biggest value of BSides Orlando is recruitment from a large list of potential candidates.

IN KIND DONATIONS

From t-shirt printing to raffle prizes to web hosting, it takes a lot to make a conference happen. For supporters who donate goods and services in lieu of monetary donations, we provide sponsor benefits commensurate with the fair market monetary value of the in kind donation.

HACKER BAKE SALE

Every summer, we run an online fundraiser we like to call our Hacker Bake Sale. Members of the community and Close Personal Friends of Lil' Chompy donate badges, books, artwork, and other hacker treasures which we auction off to help pay for the conference. One year we auctioned off a copy of the world's largest confirmed prime number autographed by the hacker who found it.

If you're interested in donating items for our Hacker Bake Sale, please reach out to sponsor@bsidesorlando.org
